THE GLENDALE MAN IS ALWAYS ON THE JOB WHEREVER HE IS LOCATED

T. J. Fambrough, of 453 Oak St., who is with the U. S. Internal Revenue Office, has been in the Hawaiian Islands for several months, collecting income and other Federal taxes. He seems to have made himself solid with the natives by extending appreciated courtesies, as witness the following clipping from the Honolulu Star Bulletin of May 16th:

Through the courtesy of T. J. Fambrough, a visitor from Glendale, Honolulu is to have a facsimile of the Declaration of Independence. For the next few days a framed copy will be on exhibition in the window of the Honolulu Photo Supply Company on Fort Street, and thereafter will be presented to the Bishop Museum. Mr. Fambrough, who is here for the second time, calls attention to the fact that the original has long since been deposited in a steel box in the Federal archives, and is no longer where it can be seen. He adds that the facsimiles of the document are also quite rare. The present copy bears the certification of John Hay, secretary of state at the time it was made. Mr. Fambrough called especial attention to the signatures of John Hancock, Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson.

The local Lodge of Elks is not slow in putting on all kinds of entertaining stunts, but the Honolulu "Hello Bills" can certainly go them one better. Here's what they are planning now according to the same paper:

A real, old style hula dance is a rarity nowadays, even in Hawaii, home of the hula, and the only hulas many Honolulu residents have seen were danced in Broadway or Mason Street cabarets. There is going to be a regular hula on the Elks' Range during fair week, a hula that will carry the kamaainas back to the good old days when the festive Kalakaua was on the throne. The Elks' Range hula dance show will be managed by Maj. H. E. Murray and C. W. Steele and they have already engaged a number of the cleverest artists in Hawaii and are on a still hunt for more. Steele and Murray propose to give fair visitors an opportunity to see the greatest company of hula dancers since the days of the first Kamehameha. George Fraser, who in private life superintends the packing of pineapples in nice little tin cans, has been given a big job. He is to have charge of the sale of leis, balloons, confetti, peanuts and other things on the Elks' Range. Fraser wants the volunteer services of 25 or 30 girls and young women and is planning to dress them up in spiffy little yama yama suits. It will be their job to supply the clamoring throngs with leis, peanuts, confetti and peanuts in exchange for coin of the realm.

MAKES QUICK RUN

Just after one o'clock yesterday there came an appeal from Eagle Rock to the Glendale Fire Department for help. In the temporary absence of Chief Lankford, permission was secured immediately from the city manager to take the fire apparatus outside the city and the red auto and the big white truck sped away eastward. An exceedingly fast run was made to Colorado and Highland Avenue corner where the garage of Mr. Meredith was found to be almost consumed. As Eagle Rock has no fire hydrants nothing could have been done to help, even had our men reached there in time, as the chemical engine was not taken. Those who went were warmly thanked by the Eagle Rock authorities for the quick run and their eagerness to help. The garage, which was used by Mr. Meredith as a welding shop, was a total loss, together with an exceedingly valuable welding outfit, which Mr. Meredith said was worth nearly $4000.

P. E. O. LUNCHEON

The monthly luncheon and meeting of Chapter A. H. of the P. E. O., was held last Friday at the home of Mrs. John Hobbs, on Central Avenue. The assisting hostesses were Mesdames Charles A. Barker, Charles Turck and John A. Logan. Covers were laid for nineteen and Mesdames Burket and De Los Smith of Chapter L. were guests.

At the session which followed the luncheon Mrs. William C. Wattles made a report of the meeting of the Grand Chapter at Palo Alto which she attended as the delegate of Chapter A. H.

The luncheon table and the Hobbs home were beautifully decorated with roses and poppies, and an exceedingly pleasant afternoon was spent by the ladies in attendance.

TELEPHONE PROTEST

TRUSTEES REQUESTED TO PROCEED WITH MUNICIPAL TELEPHONE PROJECT

A goodly number of the citizens of Glendale assembled Tuesday evening, May 27th, in the Library room of the Intermediate School, under the direction of the Greater Glendale Development Association to hear a report from the committee on anti-telephone toll and increased exchange charges. Captain Jackson submitted a stack of books containing more than 1500 names of telephone users ordering phones out if rates were not placed back to what they were April 1, 1919. The report of Capt. Jackson was very thankfully received and on motion he was instructed to employ a competent person to make an alphabetical list of the signers, and then at least an additional 100 signers be obtained to make sure that two-thirds of the phone subscribers of the Glendale exchange have signed the protest, as stipulated on the protest sheet.

Without an opposing voice the City Trustees were requested through the city manager to give the municipal telephone question precedence over the civic center question, and that the calling of the bond election for a Memorial Park be deferred until the telephone question has been given time for careful consideration.

The meeting was full of intense enthusiasm from start to finish.

Messrs. Lusby, Kirk, Jones, Pierce, Barton, Chandler, Watson, Brunton, Cowan, Scudder, Hendricks, Captain Jackson, Owen, Ely and others took an active part in the discussions.

MISS FIELD ENTERTAINS

Tuesday evening Miss Bessie Field, of 209 North Kenwood Street, entertained a few of her fellow teachers at dinner, her guest list including Miss Florence Loomis, Miss Nora Parker, Miss Dorothy Poppy and her friend, Miss Bertha Hanson. Miss Field was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. F. A. Field. On Sunday the two ladies had the pleasure of entertaining Edmond Smith Hopkins, son of a relative who has frequently visited Glendale. He was in the navy and for eight months after his enlistment was stationed at Goat Island. Just before the war ended he was assigned to duty on an old ship which went north into Alaskan waters taking hospital supplies and nurses to sufferers from influenza. The voyage was made in the winter, the vessel proved to be unseaworthy, its wireless went out of commission and they drifted around in the fog unable to tell where they were. He was very glad to get back and has been released for about three months. He came for dinner and the afternoon and was accompanied by Miss Bess Armstrong of Los Angeles. His mother is now in New York but expects to return to Los Angeles in the near future.

NEWS FROM JOHN ROBERT WHITE

Letters which Mrs. John Robert White has received from her husband now in the east transacting business for his firm, the California Furniture Company, indicate that it is not easy to secure goods. This is due in part to the fact that the weavers have all had a raise and to the further fact that the bulk of the wool supply is in the hands of the government. He has been fortunate enough to find firms who would take orders. Some manufacturers are already loaded up with more contracts than they can execute and are turning down orders.

An interesting side bit of news was a description of his meeting with a Scotchman, one of five brothers all in offensives in the war and all surviving without injury.; also his meeting with a Canadian, one of seven survivors out of a regiment of 2500.

MEMORIAL PARADE

Richardson D. White, who with C. R. Norton, constitutes a committee of arrangements for the Memorial Day Parade, May 30th, reports that the three local troops or Boy Scouts will march in uniform. He has also received acceptances of the invitation to participate from the following organizations: Chapter A. H., P. E. O.; Chapter L. of the P. E. O., the Intermediate, Colorado and Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher Associations. The Glendale Sanitarium and the Glendale Horse Shoe Club have also signified their intention of taking part. It will be a help and courtesy if all organizations intending to be represented in the parade, which will leave the corner of Brand Boulevard and Colorado Friday afternoon at 1:30, will communicate their intention to him either at the Intermediate School or his home.

OMISSIONS IN AUSTRIAN TREATY

REPARATION AND FIUME QUESTION NOT INCLUDED IN PACT TO BE GIVEN AUSTRIANS FRIDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, May 28.—It was learned today that the Fiume question and reparation are not covered by the peace treaty to be handed the Austrian delegates Friday. The Fiume question is reserved for future settlement by the "Big Four." The matter of reparation remains unsettled because of the difficulty of apportioning the bill among the various nationalities into which Austria has been split.

REFUSE SURRENDER OF KAISER

GERMANS DECLINE TO DELIVER HIM TO ALLIES AND ASK FOR NEUTRAL REPARATION COMMISSION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Berlin, May 28.—The German counter proposals to the peace treaty, as made public here, refuse the surrender of the kaiser for trial. They agree that Danzig shall be a free port with the Vistula River internationalized. The proposals ask the Allies to evacuate occupied territory within four months.

The Germans reiterate a willingness to make reparation, particularly to France and Belgium, but says they want to pay approximately five billion dollars by 1926, and then an annual sum thereafter, but they will not pay a total which exceeds 25 billions.

In refusing to turn over the kaiser for trial they make counter proposals for the reciprocal trials of persons accused on both sides.

They want a reparation commission with a neutral president to decide specific cases and disputes regarding reperation.

They ask the right to resume overseas trade, to maintain a merchant marine, and the privilege of taxing German fortunes removed to other countries.

They quote liberally from President Wilson's speeches and seek to show that the treaty does not fulfill his principles and that it contains provisions contrary to the League of Nations covenant. They also quote President Wilson's book, "The State."

HONORS FOR N-C 4 CREW

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Lisbon, May 28.—After an all-night celebration in honor of the crew of the N-C 4, Commander Read was out early this morning making preparations to fly to England. He expects to make an early start.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW

A fine audience of between 700 and 800 souls came out Tuesday evening to enjoy the vaudeville program given at the Palace Grand Theatre, under the direction of J. H. Mellish, assisted by H. M. Doll, Chairman of Finance Committee, and Prof. Frank Cutler Kendall, Musical Director of the Palace Grand. It was a benefit for the building fund of the Holy Family Catholic Church and must have realized handsome returns.

The program included the skit, "Society Night," which provided the setting for fine specialties, singing, dancing, magic, club swinging, and elocution. In the cast were Joe Griffin as "Major Domo," proprietor of the Elite Gardens; Capt. W. C. Wattles, Prof. Foley and A. W. Dickinson, waiters at the Gardens, and George Dodson, a page. In the chorus were:

Miss Edna Lawson, Mrs. Ann Thomas, Miss May Walsh, Miss Dorothy Moffit, Miss Irene McLaren, Miss Grace Goudie, Miss Clara Goudie, Miss Henrietta Folz, Miss Margaret Brennan, Mrs. May Hunter, Miss Bertha Fangman, Miss Peryl McGowan; Randolph Doll, Frank Fangman, Marcellus Doll, Joe Fangman, Ernest Martinez, Henry Bartlett, Andrew Keller, Frank Strasser, Frank Budway.

Then there was a screen picture which featured Bryant Washburn in "Something to Do." Other numbers were:

1. Mr. A. W. Dickinson, song, "At the Coffee Cooler's Tea," by Alex Sullivan and Harry DeCosta, assisted by Chorus.
2. Captain W. C. Wattles, Club Swinging.
3. Miss Viola Yorba, Casa Verdugo's sweet singer.
4. John — Chalfants — Emeline, Cake Walk and Hawaiian Dance. Pupils of the Pearl Keller School.
5. Prof. Foley, Sleight of Hand and Magic.
6. Harry Karpels, the second Harry Lauder.
7. Adam Fangman, Monologue, Fnnny Stories and Elocution.
8. Norman Otis, Glendale's popular baritone, "Dear Little Boy of Mine." Lyric by J. Kerin Brennan, music by Ernest R. Ball.
9. Miss Maude Ryan, Los Angeles and Glendale's favorite, in popular songs of the day.
10. Joe Irion, Highland Park's popular tenor, "How Ya Gonna Keep Them Down on the Farm, After They Have Seen Paree?" assisted by chorus.

The program aroused great enthusiasm and won tremendous applause. No estimate of returns could be made by officials this morning.

REPORT OF JOINT COMMITTEE

In view of certain misunderstandings arising from an article appearing in Tuesday night's Evening News, a meeting of the joint committee referred to in the article was held the same evening and the following statement was unanimously adopted:

"We view the action of the trustees of the First Methodist Church of Glendale in granting the use of their church building for commencement purposes at the request of the Board of Trustees of Glendale Union High School, as an act of great public service and an act which this committee greatly appreciates.

"And the proposed change in holding said commencement exercises from said church to the Palace Grand Theatre was the unanimous recommendation of the joint committee whose names appear below believing that said change would promote the best spirit of harmony and good will in the entire school district.

"Representatives of these two committees requested a special meeting of the Trustees of Glendale Union High School, which meeting was called on Monday, May 26th, at which the recommendation of the special committee was unanimously adopted.

"The committee desires to take this opportunity of thanking the Trustees of Glendale Union High School for their action in this matter.

"As a committee we feel that there was no just ground for levying an assessment for taxes against the First Methodist Church of Glendale. We sincerely regret that action to that end was taken and we will do what in our power lies to have said assessment set aside, thus relieving the trustees of said church from any embarrassment occasioned thereby."

YEARLY REVIEW

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AND HEARS REPORTS

Tuesday's meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was a business session at which some quite wonderful reports of officers and committee chairmen and curators were read which reflected great credit upon the club.

The property owned by the club was enumerated by the president in the absence of the officer who was to have presented the inventory. The list as Mrs. Ramsey gave it ran something like this:

Two lots—one inside and one corner lot on Harvard Street; $2300 in Liberty Bonds; one oil painting and several other pictures; a very nice collection of foreign flags; one service flag; four dozen lanterns; a miscellaneous collection of receptacles for flowers; a collection of song books; one tablecloth.

In Mrs. Ramsey's brief report as president she stated she had attended all meetings of the club and Board of Directors and other meetings specially called to discuss club matters.

Owing to the disturbed conditions brought about by the influenza epidemic fewer reciprocity invitations had been received that are customary but representatives had been appointed to respond to all that had been received.

She stated that the number of new members added to the roster during the year was 113.

The club had contributed to war work in actual money, she said, $830, besides much help in other ways.

She expressed her pride in the programs presented by the club which had been planned with a view to instruction and benefit as well as entertainment and had covered a wide range.

"I am glad," she said, "we can close the year in a healthy, prosperous condition and with our treasury full to repletion. I heartily thank my fellow officers, directors, committee chairmen and curators for their hearty co-operation in conducting the affairs of the club."

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. John Robert White, was also most encouraging, and showed receipts for the year of $1783.23, disbursements $1211.29 and a balance in cash in the treasury of $571.94.

The club now has a membership of over 350 and three members were lost during the year by death, Mrs. R. E. Chase, Mrs. Menzo Williams and Mrs. Emil Tholen.

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett as Curator of the Literary Section explained that the study of countries overseas which had been undertaken by her section had been inspired by the war which had shown so many women how superficial was their knowledge of our Allies and our enemies. Her report of the accomplishments of her section was most interesting.

Mrs. Charles Temple, Curator of the Shakespeare Section, reported an increase in membership since the close of the war and a present enrollment of 23. In spite of interruption of meetings two plays were studied, "As You Like It," from which scenes were presented at the home of the curator and at Downey, and "Hamlet."

As curator, Mrs. L. N. Hagood reviewed the fine programs of the Music Section, most of them by members who have been studying Italian, French, Polish and American composers. She also mentioned the charitable work of the section in the benefit teas given for French and Belgian relief. She mentioned the establishment of the Community Sing by the Section and urged club and members to encourage and sustain it.

An exceedingly interesting report was given by Mrs. Oliver O. Clark, Chairman of Philanthropy, which was calculated to make the selfish and idle blush, and along similar lines was the fine report of Red Cross work by club representatives made by Mrs. A. W. Beach.

Excellent reports were made by the Courtesy Chairman, Mrs. Bert P. Woodard; by the Parliamentary Curator, Mrs. P. S. McNutt; by Mrs.

A WONDERFUL COLLECTION

One of the finest displays of war relics yet seen is that in Roberts' & Echols' east show window, representing Robert Rowley's enterprise in gathering mementoes by the wayside during his tour of duty in Italy. The trophies are mostly of Austrian origin and some of them date back to the Franco-Prussian war. There are big knives, sabers and swords, helmets, firearms and scores of other interesting and gruesome articles.

TWO NEW GLENDALE FAMILIES

Mr. Hayward, of the White Star Basket Grocery, has moved over from Pasadena and is pleasantly located at 404 West Colorado, with his family. They had lived in Pasadena for five years and thought there was no place on earth to compare with it, but Mr. Hayward says Glendale is not one whit behind it in desirability as a place of residence. Mr. Kluger, partner of Mr. Hayward, is moving today on West Elk, near Pacific Avenue. Glendale is glad to welcome these two families as permanent residents.

Mrs. C. A. Watson of Albuquerque is here for several weeks as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin. On Friday her host and hostess drove with her to Riverside and entertained her at the Mission Inn, going from there to Rubidoux and coming home via Santa Ana, Whittier, Fullerton and La Brea Canyon.

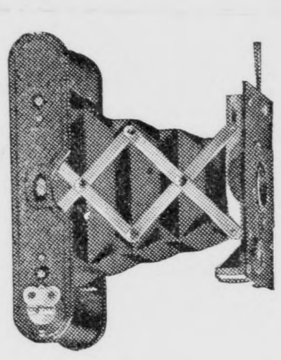
Food in Capsules

Did you ever hear of the man who took along on a journey a week's supply of food in the shape of a few capsules?

He was not a whit ahead of the party who starts out on a long auto tour or fishing trip with material for a large picture gallery in his vest pocket, in the shape of

A WONDERFUL

POCKET KODAK



It slips easily into the pocket, yet uses a standard film and takes a perfect picture, which can be enlarged just the same as the full-sized films. A pocket Kodak is one of the requisites for any pleasure trip.

Minnie Patterson, Chairman of Calling Committee; by Mrs. Thomas Ogg, Chairman of Hospitality; Mrs. Freeman Kelley, Chairman of Programs, who paid a fine tribute to the president.

Mrs. Kinney, Chairman of Decoration, is doing jury service, so was not able to be present, neither was Mrs. Andrews, Chairman of Juvenile Court Work.

The altogether charming program of the afternoon was provided by a club member, Mrs. Gertrude Follansbee, who interpreted one of Barrie's inimitable plays, "Mrs. Dowie's Medals," in a way which kept the audience divided between smiles and weeps, forgetful of their actual environment.

It was the story of a childless Scotch charwoman in London who feels so keenly the bitterness of having no part in the war that she is led to invent the relationship of mother to a certain Kenneth Dowie, a private in the "Black Watch," whose name she has seen in the papers, and of the complications that develop when the boy comes to London on leave and is brought to her humble quarters below the street level by her pastor who has discovered him. Only Barrie could work out the triumphant solution he achieves. Those who failed to hear Mrs. Follansbee missed a treat.

The final report presented was that of the judges of the election for officers for the coming year as follows:

President. Mrs. A. W. Tower.

First Vice-President, Mrs. C. H. Temple.

Second Vice-President, Mrs. Freeman Kelley.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. Harry Duffield.

Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Andrew Findlay.

Treasurer, Mrs. John Robert White.

Member of the Board, Mrs. E. W. Kinney.

Everyone is urged to join in the line of march and help make this the greatest Decoration Day in history.

L. L. McHattie and wife who recently came here from Vancouver, B. C., locating at 1527 Rock Glen Ave., are in a decided quandary. They located thus far from the car lines with the hope that the home they rented might not be sold from under them, but to no avail. It was sold last week and now they are hunting another as they are very anxious to stay in Glendale, which they regard as the ideal home city.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MILLS

As announced in the Evening News of Tuesday, Mrs. Augustine K. Mills passed away at her residence, 230 South Louise Street, May 27th, 1919, at 8:30 a. m., her death resulting from a stroke of paralysis which she suffered a few weeks ago. She is survived by her husband, William Mills, and five children, Ivy A. Mills, George K. Mills, William Mervyn Mills, Dick Mills and Mrs. L. F. Kerri. Funeral services will be held in the chapel of the L. G. Scovern Company Thursday at 2 o'clock. Interment will be at Santa Rosa, Sonoma county, California.

Mrs. Mills had been a resident of Glendale for a number of years and has been greatly respected by all who knew her.

MEANING NOT CLEAR

In the article published in Tuesday's Evening News under the caption "Adjustment Reached," the following paragraph has been misunderstood by some of our readers:

"That hereafter when any controversy of like nature arises in the schools, it shall be referred to a committee of the Knights of Columbus for investigation and amicable adjustment before being given general publicity."

This paragraph to be clear in meaning should read: "That hereafter when any controversy arises in the public schools in which the Holy Family Catholic Church is interested, a committee of the Knights of Columbus will represent the church in making an amicable adjustment of the differences."

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICE

(Contributed)

The funeral service for Edward Livingston French, held yesterday in the Little Church of the Flowers was most beautiful and impressive. The Reverend Geo. Eley, former rector of St. Mark's Church, Glendale, officiated, and the Episcopal service was used. The music was in charge of Miss Ina Whitaker, who was assisted by Mrs. Chas. Parker, contralto, and Mrs. Mabel Capell, soprano, and was as follows: Hymn, "Abide with Me;" solo, "O Rest in the Lord," from the oratorio "Elijah," sung by Mrs. Parker, whose lovely voice and finished musicianship were shown to rare advantage in this masterpiece of Mendelssohn's.

The beautiful hymn, "For All the Saints, Who from Their Labors Rest," by Barnby, was sung next, and inspired the hearers with its note of triumph and victory over death, in its ringing "Alleluias." At the close of the service, the solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought, was given by Mrs. Mabel Capell, and her sweet lyric soprano carried a message of loving sympathy and promise of hope to the sorrowing ones left on earth.

The church was crowded with friends and masses of flowers nearly filled the chancel and half covered the coffin, over the other half of which was draped a handsome flag, the gift of the Grand Army Corps.

Never was there a more appropriate setting for the last rites over the mortal remains of one who was noted for his love of all things beautiful, music, art, and, above all, flowers. It was his delight to bestow flowers wherever he went, and his friends were well aware of this charming characteristic, only one of many of this sweet, sunny nature, whose passing has left a great gap in the lives of a host of friends and relatives.

And to the strains of sweet music in the lovely Little Church of the Flowers, we left our dear one, and said "Good-bye," which really means "God be with you" until the great reunion, which may be "nearer now than we think."

OUR BEST ARGUMENT

That which we have seen with our own eyes and our hands have handled, what we know from our own actual experience, that from the days of the Pioneers of this "The best country on earth" on down to the present year of Grace, 1919, "The American homes are demanding the best Sanitary Equipment." Where do they go for information, not to their Doctor or Lawyer, but to the man whose business it is to qualify in the best methods and can explain to them intelligently. I have now finished forty years of actual service in every branch of this important work. A work which spells Health to the Home and community. Come in and let us talk it over.

Yours for Sanitation,
